

BREK SHEA

Former Texan FC Player Brek Shea has just recently signed an Adidas Generation Contract with the MLS. The package is generous and guaranteed for 3 years. The Super draft will be televised this Friday on ESPN live. Several local MLS teams have shown interest and support to Brek.

- Brek has been a member of Texans FC since its beginning in 2006
- Brek has been a member of the US National Team for the past 3 years
- Brek has committed to Wake Forest University, current National Champion – but at the moment will forego college to begin his professional career

Lee Baker, Director of Soccer Operations for Texans FC says that “Brek is an example of how great things happen for players who work hard, train on their own, put their teammates first, and are humble enough to always take in information from the coaching staff.” Lee will attend the MLS Draft to support Brek in this great achievement.

“I want to thank my great friends on the Texans FC 89/90 Red team... the players, coaches, training staff, and parents for their great support while I played for the club. It simply would not have been possible to commute from College Station all those years without the help of a lot of people. I will always be one of you - a Texan.” - Brek Shea
